

How to: Replace (round) BMW boot-emblem, Hatchback

So, I've been looking all over the web for instructions how to do this, then I got bored and tried it my own.

Found out it was pretty easy, in fact silly easy!
The emblem/badge is only glued to the opening mechanism.

Sorry for the bad quality-pictures, but only had a cheap compact camera in hand.

Reason:
Wanted to change from this to that:

Tool(s):

This little plastic-tingy which you remove the bicycle-tires from the rims with

I narrowed it against some rock, which made it tiny in front

Then I started bending behind the original emblem, all way round:

Suddenly, it came off:

So, this is how the rear looks:

So, this is how the rear looks:

Front:

Wheel:

Hope it'll come in handy for someone,
And please, no critics – at least it isn't some hotshot M-badges